SENATE MAY OPPOSE WILSON

Confirmation of Pinkham's Appointment Now Held Up Pending Arrival of Protests

TIME ALLOWED FOR MAIL TO REACH WASHINGTON

Chairman Shafroth Says His Committee Will Take No Immediate Action

By C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 1.—"No action whatever will be taken by my committee on the nomination of L. M. Pinkham to be Governor of Hawaii until the people of that Territory have been afforded full opportunity to file any and all protests against such confirmation. That is the only right and proper course to pursue. Careful consideration must be given to all complaints."

This was the statement made by Senator Shafroth, Chairman of the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico to the Star-Bulletin correspondent, following the appointment of Mr. Pinkham. The Senator said many cablegrams had been received by him announcing that formal protests were on their way from Hawaii. He maintained it was reasonable that they should be permitted to come by mail because of the high cable tolls. Until their receipt, no meeting of the committee will be held or called for discussing the nomination of Mr. Pinkham.

Although much bitter feeling exists here among the friends and enemies of Senator Shafroth and McCandless, none of them has filed a complaint with the "Senate committee." They will have abundance of time in which to present their grievances. The request of any senator for a hearing in opposition to Mr. Pinkham will be granted. That is the custom always followed in the upper branch of Congress, where senatorial courtesy thrives and flourishes.

The number of senators who object to the selection of Mr. Pinkham on the grounds that he is a good Republican continues to increase and indications are that quite a respectable contingent may antagonize approval by the senate. This can be accomplished better on the floor than before the committee. It is invariably difficult to prevent affirmative action in committee, for the reason that the entire subject is then passed along to the senate for action.

A point has been reached now where the senate would not hesitate to reject an appointment made by President Wilson. This was not possible at the beginning of his administration. Following all precedents, first senator and then another slips away from his first firm allegiance, and in a brief period a sufficient number can be found to thwart the president's will. Since the nomination of Mr. Pinkham reached the senate that body unanimously rejected the selection of a postmaster out in Kansas. This furnishes a good starter for those who hereafter may protest against what they regard as unwise selections.

With the receipt of cablegrams announcing that protests would be forwarded by mail, the matter of Mr. Pinkham's appointment and confirmation reached the basis of stagnation. There was nothing for all hands to do but patiently wait until the complaints arrived.

DR. SUN'S FOLLOWER FOLLOWS TO JAPAN

(Special Cable to the Japanese Chronicle)

TOKIO, Japan, August 12.—Following in the wake of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, General Wong Hing, commander-in-chief of the rebel forces of the now defunct Chinese revolution, has arrived in Japan from the Kwangtung province and has taken quarters at Wakamatsu, a town on the west coast. Accompanying him is the former chairman of the Chinese diet at Peking, who was a prominent nationalist in trying to force the passage of a resolution to impeach President Yuan Shih-Kai, which measure failed. Dr. Sun Yat Sen is still at Suma, near Osaka, and as yet has made no move to get into communication with the leader of his troops.

William T. Rawlins Named Local Portola Commissioner

DUKE KAHANAMOKU
WILL PARTICIPATE IN SWIMMING MEET

(Special Dispatch to Star-Bulletin.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The appointment of a resident Portola commissioner for the Territory of Hawaii was announced today by the Portola Festival Committee. This commission has been accepted by William T. Rawlins, of Honolulu, who will coordinate the island plans for participating in the big San Francisco holiday of next fall.

It is regarded by the leader in the Portola project as especially fitting that Hawaii participate in the Portola, as the fete this year will commemorate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean by Vasco Nunez de Balboa. It will be held October 22 to 25.

Several prominent residents of Honolulu have within the past few weeks conferred with members of the Portola committee and told of enthusiasm over the projected participation of Honolulu. Among these is George C. Beckley, who has notified the fiesta plans before the Merchants' Association of Honolulu.

One form of Hawaii's participation has already been settled by Duke Kahanamoku, who will take part in the swimming events which are to be one feature of the big athletic carnival, to run through the four days of the festival. Other well known swimmers from the islands will also be seen here then. With all parts of the Pacific coast planning to share in the festivities, however, it is expected that Honolulu will make the most of this promotion opportunity, according to members of the Portola committee.

Commissioners with duties similar to those of Commissioner Rawlins are now at work in the principal cities of California and elsewhere on the Pacific coast. One of the recent additions to the roster of commissioners was the appointment of John Schram, of Seattle. In Los Angeles the Portola plans are being directly by a committee of three, and in other California cities special committees have been organized by civic and development bodies to direct municipal or county participation.

It is certain that the Portola Festival of 1913 will be the most generally celebrated fete ever held in the West.

Rawlins Sees Promotion Opportunity
Attorney W. T. Rawlins received his first definite information of the action of the Portola Festival Committee from the Star-Bulletin this morning when he returned from a business trip to Hilo.

"I am much gratified at the appointment," said Rawlins this morning. "While I was in San Francisco I had several talks with some of the gentlemen connected with the Portola Festival but I have had no definite news before now as to the appointment. I expressed myself willing to serve in any way possible."

"The move will undoubtedly benefit Hawaii from a promotion and advertising standpoint and we will have a fine opportunity to secure some valuable publicity."

"The appointment is a surprise to me," continued Rawlins, "but I believe that Hawaii can well afford to assist San Francisco at the Portola festival and I shall take up the matter at once."

AUSTRALIAN STATES MAY JOIN HAWAII

Percy Hunter Has Plan to Take
Offices Together for Boosting
Purposes on Coast

If satisfactory arrangements can be made, two of the Australian states, New South Wales and Victoria, will share the office of the Hawaii Promotion Committee in San Francisco. Such is the news brought by Percy Hunter, head of the Australian Tourist and Immigration Bureau, who arrived on the Honolulu from San Francisco this morning and will continue his trip to Sydney by the Makura tomorrow.

"I do not know how matters will turn out," he stated this morning, "but during my stay here I will take the matter up with those in charge and see what can be done about the combination of New South Wales and Victoria with Hawaii. Of course, there are a great number of things to be attended to in connection with the matter and it may be that Hawaii will not feel inclined to listen to the proposal at all."

"Should the three get together, I think that we could accomplish good work, however, and I am hoping that a common ground can be arrived at. Both these states have small offices in San Francisco at the present time but now that the federal government has changed in Australia I am expecting the tourist and immigration work to be pushed rapidly ahead."

"I am more than sorry that I can-

SMALLPOX OUTBREAK IN SYDNEY REPORTED AS BEING VERY MILD

That the outbreak of smallpox in Sydney, Australia, is not so serious as generally thought is the news received by Percy Hunter, head of the Australian Immigration and Tourist Bureau who arrived on the Honolulu this morning from San Francisco.

Following is the cable sent by Premier McGowan of New South Wales:

"Board of Health reports that smallpox epidemic now existing in Sydney is of a very mild type, similar to that in Canada. There have not been 400 cases altogether. There have been no deaths and no patient has been seriously ill."

Hunter leaves on the Canadian-Australian steamer Makura tomorrow in continuation of his trip to Sydney. He expects to be back in Honolulu later this year and to spend a week or so here.

CECIL BROWN OPPOSED TO JURY ACTION

Fluently States Position Relative to Charges of Graft Against John Wise

Friends of John H. Wise, accused of graft in connection with the compilation of the senate journal, are getting together. It was reported today, to make an effort to keep the grand jury from taking up the charges which have been made against Wise by Senator James L. Coke.

Cecil Brown, chairman of the accounts committee of the senate, though he did not admit that he would defend Wise, stated that he did not wish to see the clerk prosecuted, and that with him it was a case of "to hell with the charges."

While Wise's friends are rallying, quiet preparations are under way to present the case against the clerk to the local grand jury, which will meet Thursday. Senator Coke has agreed to turn over all his evidence to the jury, and appear personally to give what evidence he has in support of his charges.

It was stated in the office of the city and county attorney this morning that the matter had not been formally put before him. The governor also has repeated his statement that he has not been given official notice of the charges. Attorney General Thayer stated that the accusations are not within his range of office.

Chairman Brown, who refused to make any statement yesterday relating to Wise's trouble, was of about the same mind this morning.

"I have nothing to say," he said, when requested for a statement.

"Do you wish to see any action taken against Wise?"

"No," he said.

"Well, what do you think of the charges?"

"They can go to hell for all of me!"

With which statement the interview ended.

SHELDON WOULD TAKE CASE TO THE GRAND JURY

Attorney General Refuses to Take Hand in Chalmers Case at Present

JUDGE OBJECTS TO THE STATEMENT OF BROWN

Inquisitors Will Meet Thursday And It Is Believed This Matter Will Be Called

Expressing a fear that the city and county attorney's office would not present the Chalmers case to the territorial grand jury, or that if it did it would not be presented impartially, Attorney William J. Sheldon appealed to Attorney General W. W. Thayer this morning, asking that he assert the prerogative of his superior position and assume personal charge of the case.

When the attorney general declined to do this, Attorney Sheldon asked that he be appointed a special deputy to handle the affair, but this request also was denied.

"I understand," said Thayer, "that Deputy City and County Attorney A. M. Brown has said he intends presenting the matter to the grand jury. For me to take the case into my own hands in the face of that statement would be to virtually make a charge against Brown of malfeasance of office, and I have no evidence at hand to support any such charge."

"If the case is not presented to the grand jury, then perhaps I would be within my rights in taking up an investigation of the entire affair, determining officially whether there is sufficient grounds to warrant its presentation to the grand jury, and taking such steps as would appear advisable."

"But it seems to me that to interfere in the present situation would be folly. I believe it will be presented to the grand jury by Mr. Brown or Mr. Cathcart."

Replies to City Attorney

William J. Sheldon, the attorney representing the family of little Elizabeth Antone, who was killed by the automobile driven by Chalmers, made the following statement this morning in reply to the statement made by A. M. Brown, deputy city and county attorney, when the warrant for the arrest of Chalmers was signed by Judge Monsarrat yesterday:

"Last Friday I called on City and County Attorney Cathcart and asked him what his office proposed to do toward the prosecution of Chalmers. He replied that I had better see Mr. Brown as the latter had the case in hand. I then called on Mr. Brown and put the question to him of whether or not it was planned to prosecute Chalmers. He informed me that before he could answer the question he would have to see Mr. Cathcart, who, I knew, had been in a conference with Attorney Prosser."

"Mr. Brown told me to return at 2 o'clock and he would be in a position to state whether charges against the man would be prosecuted by his office. At 2 o'clock I returned, but Brown was not in his office and I did not see him until Saturday when we met in court. I asked him then what decision had been reached; and he informed me that it had been agreed not to prosecute Chalmers, the evidence being regarded as insufficient to sustain any criminal charge."

"I told Brown that I had other evidence against Chalmers, which, added to what he had, was amply sufficient to sustain a manslaughter charge. I told him I could produce witnesses to testify that before Chalmers had his accident he had stopped at a little store, and there, in the presence of several persons, remarked of his own drunken condition and the risk he

FRANK THOMPSON SAYS EDITORS ARE LEGITIMATE PREY OF 'ROUGH NECKS'

"May I please your honor, ever since man first wrote on the tablets of stone it has been man's privilege to whip editors. Editors realized this unalienable right on the part of laymen, and they therefore provide themselves with pistols, knives and other trinkets."

So spoke Attorney Frank Thompson in the police court this morning when he was called upon to defend Tom Kau, who had taken it upon himself to beat up Ng Wing Sun, the esthetic and scholarly appearing editor of the "Liberty News." Kau believed that an article appearing in the publication had been written by Ng and that it reflected on the good character of Kau's better half.

Though the court did not expressly admit that the unalienable privilege of whipping editors existed, it considered that under the circumstances Kau's fine should not exceed $15.

Kealoha Again Is Arrested; Forgery Charged

Three Offenses Have Now Been Laid at Door of Hawaii Supervisor; One Conviction Appealed

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless]

HILO, August 12.—Following his promise made yesterday afternoon, Special Prosecutor Breckons, this morning, caused the arrest of Supervisor John Kealoha, on a charge of forgery. Kealoha was represented by Attorney McBride, and it is stated that he will secure bond this afternoon.

This is the third time Kealoha has been placed under arrest during the present probe into the ill political of Hawaii, the first charge was that of altering the payroll, on which he was found guilty, and sentenced to four months in jail. This case is now on appeal. The second arrest was on an embezzlement charge, on which he has not been tried.

On the latest charge it is alleged that Kealoha signed the payrolls for men in the employ of the county, and failed to turn the money over to those whose name he had signed.

MARSHALL IS BOOKED ON A MURDER CHARGE

Friends Believe Blighted Romance Caused Young Man To Have Unbalanced Mind

REMAINS OF GUERTLER
LEAVE IN WILHELMINA

Sheriff Jarrett Is Visitor at the Hula Dance Hall and Says It Is 'Good for Honolulu'

Madame Puahi, keeper of the hula dance hall in Kapihua park where C. R. Guertler was shot Sunday morning, was the first witness to be called before the coroner's jury which convened at two o'clock this afternoon. Her testimony was almost a repetition of the statement made by her to a Star-Bulletin representative yesterday, except that it differed materially as to the circumstances of the actual shooting. She testified today that she did not see the shooting, but that she heard the shot fired, and came into the room, finding Guertler and the others in the scuffle.

She also told that after leaving the dance hall once following a quarrel with the Guertler party, Marshall returned with a friend who tried to get him away. She did not know the name of this friend. The friend went to get Marshall's hat and there was another scuffle, during which time Guertler walked over to where it was taking place. She says Guertler was within two feet of Marshall at the time the shot was fired.

The rest of her story followed closely that given to the Star-Bulletin yesterday, and related to the series of quarrels between Marshall and the others. Several other witnesses are to be called.

His face flushed from a fever, his eyes bloodshot from a sleepless night, his hands shaking with a nervousness which seems to be growing more acute with each hour, John W. Marshall stepped into the police court this morning, took his seat in the prisoners' dock, and a few minutes later the young man who killed C. R. Guertler Sunday morning listened as a charge of murder was entered against him by A. M. Brown, deputy city and county attorney.

He remained silent. Since his arrest he has made but a few statements. Attorney Frank Thompson was present in court to represent him this morning. He stated that he had been asked to appear by H. K. Bishop of the Waiholo Water Company, but that he does not know now whether he will appear for Marshall in the subsequent proceedings. Attorney Thompson also is acting for the Guertler estate. After the charge had been made by Attorney Brown, the case was put over until August 19, before which time it is believed the grand jury will meet and bring an indictment against Marshall.

Suggestions as to the defense to be made for the prisoner are swiftly coming to the front. Mr. Thompson, however, does not wish to discuss them at this time. The story of a love affair which began on a steamer and later drove Marshall from Hilo back to the mainland where the girl lived is being related this morning as a possible defense which may be urged to show that the young man was not in his normal mind when he fired the shot which cost the life of Guertler.

A. A. Wilson of the Waiholo company employed Marshall shortly after he met the girl, and Wilson and he worked together in Hilo on a job for several months. Letters from the girl came to Marshall often, at first, said Wilson, but as time went on they came less often and finally the

REPUBLICANS OF TERRITORY WILL MEET AUGUST 19

Republican leaders of the territory will meet in Honolulu on August 19 to discuss needed changes in party rules due to the passage of the primary law and to take up general matters for the good of the party.

Chairman Robert W. Shingle of the territorial central committee, made the announcement this morning. He expects prominent G. O. P. men from all of the islands to attend the conference, which probably will not consume more than a day. National Committeeman Charles A. Rice is coming from Kauai, and H. L. Holstein, former committeeman, will probably come from Hawaii. The Hawaii and Maui Republicans will arrive either on Saturday, August 16, or on the following Monday, and the meeting, set for Tuesday, will be held so that they can return by the Mauna Kea on Wednesday.

Several proposed changes will be brought up, most of which have been under discussion by the county committee here.

Tokio Evidently Does Not Wish to Take Any Step to Embarrass U. S. Administration

[Associated Press Cable]

TOKIO, Japan, August 12.—A new cause of controversy may arise when Gen. Felix Diaz gets to Japan, as the special ambassador from Mexico, sent by the Huerta government.

The government has let it be known through informal channels that it is unwilling to receive Diaz unofficially, and as he does not bear the credentials of a regularly-appointed ambassador, the nature of his reception is doubtful.

COL. MULHALL DISCREDITED BY HIS EMPLOYERS

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12.—That Col. Martin Mulhall, whose allegations of influencing congressional action in favor of big interests in the country have been the sensation of the lobby investigation, is nothing but an employee in a clerical and advisory capacity was the testimony of James Emery, before the investigating committee today. Emery is chief representative of the National Manufacturers' Association which, declared Mulhall, paid him to work for its interests in Washington, Wall street and elsewhere. Emery denied that Mulhall had authority to speak for the association or that the association had any connection with the transactions in which Mulhall testified with such fluency.

IMPEACHMENT OF SULZER DELAYED; HE'S CONFIDENT

[Associated Press Cable]

ALBANY, N. Y., August 12.—The lower house of the legislature today delayed the bringing to a vote of the plan to impeach Governor Sulzer because the anti-Sulzer members lacked the necessary two-thirds vote.

The governor says that he will reserve his defense for the trial if he is impeached. He says that if he is not impeached, he will publish his defense in full and allow the people to judge of his actions.
